CHINA GLASS 2016: FENZI AND TECGLASS CHALK UP NEW SUCCESSES

Fenzi quality and the technology of Tecglass products won over visitors at the Chinese glass exhibition, with the sale of an ultra high-performance digital printer for glass, the first after the Spanish company joined the Fenzi group.

China Glass was the perfect opportunity to seal the closer working partnership between the leader in chemicals for secondary flat glass processing and Tecglass, the Spanish producer of high-tech machinery and components for digital printing on glass.

Tecglass was at the Fenzi stand in Shanghai with a perfect live demonstration of the color and quality of its sophisticated digital printing technology applied to glass on the stand walls, giving an example of the expressive potential of this very high precision and special application.

Perfect solid- and multi-color printing resolution, permanent adhesion to glass, simultaneous printing and drying on large-sized glass sheets measuring up to 3,300 x 18,000 mm, are just some of the features of Vitro-Jet ST XY, specifically designed by Tecglass for outdoor applications. It was sold at China Glass to the Mexican company Megaluminio which produces high quality tempered, laminated and insulating glass. Designed to be incorporated in a production line or as a fully automated stand-alone digital machine, Vitro-Jet ST XY is ideal for producing SSG facades in avant-garde buildings and for meeting the most demanding needs of designers and architectural practices.

“We are very happy with this important result which we think is just the first in many to come – commented Fenzi CEO Alessandro Fenzi – Our search for innovative breakthroughs led us to invest in an ultra high-performance technology such as the one developed by Tecglass, which is in perfect sync with the high quality standards that Fenzi and Glass Alliance require for all products placed on the market”.

The consistent quality of the solutions it offers makes the Fenzi group a well-established, reliable partner in international markets such as Asia where it has been working for more than 35 years and especially since 2006 through the Fenzi China Paints and Sealants Company Ltd branch in China.

“In these countries above all, quality, prompt service and the topmost customer attention, as well as ongoing innovation and research to develop new products that are ever closer to our clients’ needs have become more important than ever before. Our investment in Tecglass goes exactly in this direction”, confirmed Alessandro Fenzi.
