Fenzi North America has announced that Bob Lalonde, based in Montreal, Quebec, has taken on the position of national sales manager, effective March 31. Lalonde joined Fenzi last year as regional sales manager for Quebec and Eastern Canada.

"Bob joined Fenzi North America last spring and has showed a strong commitment to his customers throughout all of Canada, ensuring Fenzi's place in the marketplace is well represented," said David Devenish, general manager of Fenzi, in a company release.

Prior to joining Fenzi, Lalonde worked for Bostik Canada for over 20 years, covering the Canadian market with mainly polyurethane and hot melt sealants.

"With Bob's extensive background in IG sealants, his knowledge and support to all his customers has proven invaluable as we move forward with our expansion plans," according to Devenish. "The recent opening of our warehouse in LaSalle, Quebec, is the first step under Bob's direction. Bob's experience in the sealant industry and his dedication to servicing his customers sealant needs is exactly the philosophy that we want to bring to all of our customers."
